

Action Day – January 5th 2012

Report by Robert Briggs
Photographs by Margaret Adnitt

Our first working morning of the New Year was greeted by a bright and sunny winter morning.

7 willing helpers worked on clearing the bracken around the trees on the common next to Botany Brook making it easy to cut with the large grass cutting machinery during the year.

After the strong winds, fallen tree branches needed to be removed from the area around Botany Brook as well as the bracken from the sloping bank.

Litter picking around this area was also undertaken.
